TRUMAN ASKS DRAFT'S RETURN

Solons Seek 'Explanation' On Miner Rift; President's Board Studies Meat Strike

WASHINGTON, March 17 (U.P.) — The house-senate labor committee today demanded from John L. Lewis and soft coal operators an explanation within 48 hours of the pension dispute which has closed most of the nation's coal mines.

Lewis had no immediate comment, but a spokesman said the United Mine Workers chief might have something to say later in the day.

The committee heretofore has refrained from interfering in current labor disputes. But Chairman Joseph H. Ball, R., Minn., said the group now wanted to be kept fully informed on facts leading to the dispute and future developments.

The committee called for an explanation as government officials saw little hope of an early end to the soft coal strike which began Monday.

Both government and industry sources feared a shutdown of at least two weeks or longer unless Lewis orders a back-to-work movement before his demand on miners' pensions is settled.

Ball telegraphed his request for an explanation to Lewis and Ezra van Horn, management trustee for the union welfare fund.

The walkout is in its third day and more than 350,000 miners are idle in 14 states.

Ball pointed out that the joint congressional committee had been specifically directed to study welfare funds. A dispute over payment of miners' pensions set off the current strike.

Lewis wants the welfare fund to pay $100 a month pension to all miners over 60 years of age who have had 20 years' service. The pensions would be financed from the welfare fund which is raised by a levy of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. Van Horn has refused the request.

Soft coal production is down to CHICAGO, March 17 (AP) — The day-old strike of 100,000 CIO meat packing workers came under the official scrutiny of a presidential fact-finding board today.

President Truman, whose earlier pleas to delay the walkout were rejected by union officials, named the board yesterday. It was the first procedure under the Taft-Hartley labor act designed to end strikes that imperil the nation's health and safety.

The meat strike, which halved the nation's meat production, may provide a major test of the new labor law.

The three-man board planned its first meeting in Chicago today to begin investigating the wage dispute which led to the work stoppage in about 140 of the nation's major and independent packing plants.

Cooperation Promised

The striking union, CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America, promised President Truman "every possible cooperation" with the fact-finding board. Similar cooperation was promised by one of the major packing companies.

The board named under a provision of the Taft-Hartley act, has until April 1 to make a written report covering the facts of the dispute to Mr. Truman. It will not make recommendations but after the board reports the President can ask the attorney general to seek an injunction to end the strike.

80-Day Reprieve

An injunction, if obeyed, would have the effect of ending the strike for at least 80 days. After a second study of the dispute by the fact-finding board the national labor relations board would take a secret ballot among strikers in connection with the employers' last settlement offer.

The NLRB would certify the results to the attorney general who would ask for release of the injunction. If the dispute remained unsettled the President could refer it to congress.

Members of the board are Nathan

Dedication of Bridge Is Set Memorial Day

Dedication of the rim-to-rim bridge as the "Perrine Memorial bridge" will be held the afternoon of Memorial day, May 31, it was decided Wednesday morning at a meeting of the memorial committee.

A bronze plaque, measuring three by four feet, will bear a likeness of I. B. Perrine in whose memory the bridge will be renamed. Tentative plans were made to invite Gov. C. A. Robins to speak at the dedication rites. Also speaking will be the mayors of Twin Falls and Jerome.

H. C. Gettert was appointed finance chairman. He announced that persons wishing to contribute funds to help pay for the plaque and its installation can leave their donations at the Jerome bank or either of the two Twin Falls banks.

Attending the meeting Wednesday morning were Joe Marshall, Mrs. John Hayes, Mrs. A. J. Peavey, Mrs. John Graham, Herbert R. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gettert.

Theme Is Set For Sessions Of State PTA

"The Four-Point Program in Action" will be the theme stressed when the 41st annual convention of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers convenes in Twin Falls April 21-23, according to Mrs. Victor Goertzen, publicity chairman.

"Every community has a stake in a broader school education, improved health, deeper world understanding and better home and family life," states Mrs. Goertzen, "therefore, the Idaho convention will build its entire program around these vital issues."

Mrs. R. J. Hawes and Mrs. Lionel A. Dean, both Twin Falls, and Mrs. L. L. Johnson, Glenns Ferry, are serving on the convention committee.

Two out-of-state speakers will address the convention sessions. Representing the national organization will be Mrs. J. J. Garland, Menlo Park, Calif., vice president of region eight and the immediate past president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Glenn E. Snow, St. George, Utah, president of Dixie Junior college and new president of the National Education association, will lead a discussion of school education.

"The PTA is a democratic organization, charged throughout with democratic principles with a membership of 4,486,855 forward-looking parents and teachers, who can be a powerful force in determining the kind of education your community will provide for its children," concluded Mrs. Goertzen.

200 Civilians Are Arrested by Reds

PRAGUE, March 17 (U.P.)—Justice Minister Alexj Cepicka was quoted in the press today as saying that 200 civilians have been arrested and indicted on charges of activity against the state.

The 200 arrested civilians did not include army men alleged to have been connected with the same activity, who will be tried in military courts, Cepicka said.

OAKLEY, March 17—More than 160 students from 16 Magic Valley high schools met in Oakley Tuesday for the annual district four music clinic which was highlighted by a public concert given in the Oakley LDS tabernacle at 8 p.m.

Walter Welti, professor of music at Utah State Agricultural college, Logan, Utah, was the guest conductor for the public concert.

Numbers Listed

Numbers presented at the concert were "I Heard a Forest Praying," "Pearly Raindrops," "Since First I Met Thee," "King Jesus Is Listening," and "A Mighty Forest Is Our God."

Judge Porter Keeps Silent On Court Bid

Bar associations throughout Idaho Tuesday were requested by the Eleventh Judicial District Bar association to ask District Judge James W. Porter, Twin Falls, to run for the state supreme court.

The local association requested Judge Porter to announce his candidacy some time ago in a resolution. He is being urged to seek the bench position of Supreme Court Justice Alfred Budge who is ineligible to seek reelection by reason of the judges' retirement act.

Edward Babcock, Twin Falls attorney and president of the 11th district association, said when asking for support from other district associations:

"Members of the 11th district association feel it is incumbent upon the bar throughout the state to request, urge and support the candidacy of those, who by experience, qualifications and temperament are qualified to serve upon the supreme court.

"Such a man is Judge Porter."

Judge Porter, when informed of the bar association's latest action, said that he would have no statement to make regarding his candidacy until he returned from a business trip to Iowa.

He said he would leave Twin Falls Wednesday morning and would probably return in 10 days or two weeks. He indicated that he might have made a decision pertaining to the election by the time he returned.

Vet Stays on in Plush 'Foxhole'

NEW YORK, March 17 (U.P.) — Richard Earl Cox, the ex-GI who moved his family into the Waldorf-Astoria hotel because he couldn't get adequate housing, was told today that they could stay in their $12.50 a day room as long as they wanted.

Waldorf officials added, however, that they expected him to pay his bill just like any other guest.

"That's all right," Cox replied. "I'm good for my share and I'm sure Mayor O'Dwyer is good for his."

Cox moved in Saturday with his wife and two children. The city, he said, had failed to get him in a veteran's housing project.

He figured he would pay $40 a month for the room and send the balance of the bill to the city.

Merchants' Bureau Schedules 5 P.M. Closing for 3 Months

The Twin Falls Merchants' bureau passed a resolution Wednesday morning calling for a change in business hours for the summer months. It was decided to open stores at 9 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. during June, July and August.

Bureau members also made plans for the opening game of the Cowboys on May 4. Stores will be closed at noon on that date and a parade featuring players and civic organizations will precede the contest.

The holiday calendar for 1948 also was adopted at the meeting. As Memorial day and the Fourth of July fall on Sunday this year, it was decided to close stores on Monday to give employes a double holiday. Christmas and New Year's also will be double holidays.

In answering a request by city ministers to permit employes three hours off on Good Friday afternoon, the bureau proposed that churches try to arrange morning services instead. If this is not possible, the bureau recommended that any employe desiring to attend church in the afternoon be given permission to leave his job.

Plans were discussed to have the high school band and a car caravan represent Twin Falls at the "freedom train" observance in Pocatello March 27.

Workers Killed in Blast

An explosion which wrecked the engine test building of International Harvester company plant in Louisville, Ky., took the lives of at least seven workmen. Twenty-six persons were injured and twenty-five others trapped in the debris. The blast occurred as the night shift was leaving and the day shift reporting. (AP wirephoto)

Four Boys Fall From Moving Autos in Day

Four Magic Valley children were thrown from moving automobiles Tuesday resulting in the deaths of two. The dead boys are Gary Allen, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Allen, jr., 465 Gardner street, Twin Falls, and Charles Arthur Brooke, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brooke, 424 Third avenue west, Twin Falls.

The Brooke youngster was killed in an accident near Hazelton and the Allen boy was killed near Snowville, Utah.

Danny Allen, 13-months-old brother of the dead child, was taken to the Cottage hospital, Burley, for treatment of shock and bruises. He was dismissed Wednesday.

In another accident where a boy was thrown from a moving car, Neddie Horner, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Horner, Paul, was slightly injured. He opened the back door of his father's car accidentally and fell to the pavement about two miles east of Burley on U.S. highway 30.

Fell From Car

The Allen child was killed late Tuesday afternoon when he was thrown through the rear door of a car operated by his grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Walker, route 1, Burley.

According to investigating officers, Sheriffs Saul Clark, Cassia county, and Warren Hyde, Box Elder county, Utah, the child was riding in the rear seat when the car door came open. Mrs. Walker was reported to have immediately applied the brakes causing the child to go through the door. She lost control of the machine.

Car Overturns

The boy was thrown into a borrow pit and the machine overturned, catching him beneath it and killed him instantly.

Mrs. Walker and Dannie Allen were both treated at the Cottage hospital, Burley.

The body is at the Payne mortuary, Burley, pending funeral arrangments.

Another boy, Floyd Wallace, 9, Declo, received severe cuts on the forehead Tuesday when he ran from around the corner of the Declo school building into a machine operated by Frank Wells, Declo. The boy was taken to a Burley doctor where several stitches were taken to close a wound in his head.

All-Day Meet Set March 26 For Farmers

An all-day conference on southern Idaho farm labor problems will be held in the Twin Falls Legion hall March 26, A. J. Meeks, manager of the local Idaho state employment service office, announced Wednesday. All farmers, food processors and organizations interested in farm production south of the Salmon river have been invited to send representatives, Meeks said.

Meeks explained that the conference will be open to any farmer or food processor who wishes to attend. Prior to the public meeting, the employment service will hold a two-day training session in farm placement work for ISES personnel from all branches in southern Idaho. These meetings will be held in the Idaho Power company auditorium March 24-25.

Taking part in the labor problem conference will be Dave Stubblefield, Idaho commissioner of agriculture; L. M. Williams, district extension agent of the extension service; Richard Ross of the bureau of agricultural economics; George M. Hersley, Idaho member of the U. S. employment service national farm labor committee; W. C. Holley and Harold Clinite, farm placement representatives of the U. S. employment service and George R. Gochnour, farm placement supervisor of the Idaho state employment service.

Old Building at Milner Survives Dynamite Blasts

BURLEY, March 17 — The last building in the old town of Milner was scheduled to be just another pile of bricks today, but the old structure defied several charges of dynamite Tuesday and is still standing.

Two series of dynamite charges were exploded in the shell of the old building Tuesday, but the only damage was several holes in the wall and cracks running up the side of the building.

Dynamite experts under Rudd Elquist abandoned their efforts to demolish the building after the second series of explosions failed to topple the structure. John White, owner, said he would try to pull down the brick walls with a large tractor.

The building, all that remains of Milner, was first used to house a bank and later was used for a general store.

Wallace Urges Solons to Quell 'War Hysteria'

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace called on leaders of congress today to "quell the war hysteria" which he said is being "fanned" by the Truman administration to bolster the President's chances for reelection.

The third party presidential aspirant made public telegrams which he sent to congressional committees declaring that the "people look to the congress for calmness and sanity."

Asserting that on two other occasions President Truman "has convened the congress in an atmosphere of artificially created crisis to cover up failures" of his policies, Wallace told the committees:

"Your responsibility and that of the other members of the congress to quell the war hysteria which is being fanned by the military-members of the administration is brought into sharp focus by the President's convening of another emergency joint session."

Act to Assist War Prevention, Halt of Reds, Solons Told

WASHINGTON, March 17 (UP)—President Truman today asked congress for "temporary reenactment" of selective service legislation to help this country prevent war and to aid in curbing the "growing menace" of Russian expansion in Europe.

In an historic appearance before a joint session of the house and senate, Mr. Truman called for this three-point program to bolster the nation's efforts for world peace:

1. "I recommend that the congress speedily complete its action on the Europe recovery program."
2. "I recommend prompt enactment of universal training legislation."
3. "I recommend the temporary reenactment of selective service legislation in order to maintain our armed forces at their authorized strength."

Mr. Truman said these three recommendations represented "the most urgent steps toward securing the peace and preventing war."

"We must be prepared to pay the price of peace, or assuredly we shall pay the price of war," he said.

The President said the spread of communism threatens "the very existence of democracy." He insisted that this country must remain strong enough to support the free nations of Europe "which are threatened with communist control and police-state rule."

Mr. Truman sharply criticized the Soviet union and its satellites for attempting to wreck the European recovery program.

He blamed Russia for its "ruthless" destruction of "the independence and democratic character" of nations in eastern and central Europe.

A situation has developed, Mr. Truman said, which forces the United States to act immediately on "fundamental issues of vital importance."

"I believe that we have reached a point at which the position of the United States should be made

Expansion of Air Force Is Set by Chiefs

WASHINGTON, March 17 (U.P.)—The nation's defense chiefs were agreed today on a plan for immediate expansion of the air forces and congress appeared ready to back it up with money.

Informed sources said the joint chiefs of staff have approved a blueprint that would bring America's air power close to the 20,500-plane strength recommended by the President's air policy commission.

Pledge Appropriations

At the same time, house Republican leaders pledged themselves to appropriate enough money to provide the armed forces with "absolutely everything needed" for the national security. They said they would urge the house to approve the full $11,000,000,000 budget asked by President Truman, plus an additional sum for air forces expansion.

Under an agreement reached at the recent Key West, Fla., conference of military leaders, it was said, the air forces would be almost doubled in plane potential and the navy's air arm would be vastly improved.

Present Force "Inadequate

The joint chiefs agreed that the present air force is inadequate in the face of the increasingly serious world situation. It consists of 360,000 officers and men—40,000 under its present authorized strength. It is equipped with 10,800 planes, including about 580 heavy bombers and 2,300 fighters.

The President's air police commission's report called for enlargement of the present 55 air groups to 70 by 1953. This served as a basis for the discussion at the Key West conference.

April 1 ERP Limit Sought Within House

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—House Republican leaders renewed today their call for passage of a foreign aid bill by April 1 but left details of the measure to the foreign affairs committee.

Under that time-table, the aid bill would go to a house senate conference committee in ample time for congress to complete action well before the Italian elections April 18.

Speaker Martin, R., Mass., chairman of the house policy-making group, said no attempt was made to reach agreement on the amount to be spent for foreign aid or how long the program would run.

The bill passed by the senate calls for $5,300,000,000 to be spent in the first year of operation.

Republican foreign affairs committee members sat in on the policy-making meeting and then went im-

Union Treaty Is Signed by Five Powers

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 17 (AP)—A five-power treaty starting a 50-year western European union to defend democracy was signed here today.

The historic military, political and economic alliance was signed by the foreign ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The signing, at 5.04 p.m. (9:04 a.m., MST), took place in the solemn sessions hall of the Brussels palace of academies.

The treaty pledges the five nations to mutual military aid if any one of them is attacked. The treaty was completed here Friday.

Terms Revealed

The terms of alliance, embracing economic as well as military cooperation, were made public in the capitals of the five nations as their foreign ministers formally signed the pact in Brussels.

The 50-year treaty, forged last week in an atmosphere darkened by the westward advance of communism, called for quick action to put its objectives of common security and economic recovery into operation. The treaty made partners of the five nations.

The treaty ordered formation of a "consultative council" to operate on a continuing basis.

"Threats" to Bring Parleys

The council is to meet immediately "to consult with regard to any situation which might constitute a threat to peace . . ."

The treaty's fourth article was the crux of the agreement. It said:

"If any of the high contracting parties should be the object of an armed attack in Europe, the other high contracting powers will, in accordance with provisions of article 51 of the charter of the United Nations, afford the party so attacked all the military and other aid and assistance in their power."

The five powers did not mention Russia by name.

312,000 Short

WASHINGTON, March 17 (U.P.)—The nation's armed forces now are 312,000 below their authorized strength, a survey showed today.

The army is 110,000 men short of its authorized strength of 669,000. The air force has 350,000 officers and men, or 42,000 below strength. The navy with 393,000 officers and enlisted men is 159,000 below authorized strength.

Senate Group Told Military Power 'Need'

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall told congress members today that "diplomatic action without the backing of military strength in the present world can lead only to appeasement."

Marshall testified to the senate armed services committee in support of universal military training, and temporary enactment of a selective service law.

Panel Opens Hearings

The committee opened hearings on these proposals only two hours after President Truman had appealed for them in a personally-delivered message to congress.

Marshall said that in addition to these manpower measures "a reconsideration of our air program is also necessary."

He told the senators:

"The combination of two things, enactment of the European recovery program on the one hand and a decision by the American people that clearly indicates that they are determined in their course, are necessary now, I think, to the maintenance of peace in the world."

Expresses Concern

The secretary of state expressed concern over what he called the "accelerated trend" of events in Europe, specifically mentioning the communization of the Balkan states, except Greece, and the fact that both Hungary and Czechoslovakia "have been forced into complete submission to the communist control."

He reminded the committee that within a month (on April 18) Italy will hold a national election. This, he said, "has an importance far beyond local Italian affairs."

Committee Studies Proposals To Regulate Potato Maturity

Proposed regulation of the maturity of Idaho potatoes before they are shipped in commercial channels has been referred to a subcommittee for further study, according to an announcement by L. H. Wagner, chairman of the Idaho potato industry coordinating committee.

Maturity regulations were discussed extensively at a recent meeting of the committee, Wagner said.

Discussion indicated that market slumps are often encountered when immature Idaho russets reach the markets, he added.

While discussion covered the possibility of state legislation to provide for maturity regulations, the constitutionality of such a law was questioned and committee members looked instead to a possible federal marketing agreement, the chairman continued.

It was agreed that growers probably would have to be educated to the benefits of shipping only mature potatoes, he continued.

Lee Hayes, Caldwell, mentioned at the meeting that markets had been lost and much grief encountered in the past because immature Triumph potatoes had been shipped from western Idaho.

Worden A. Davis, Parma, pointed out, however, that shippers in western Idaho already have gone on record in favor of some sort of maturity regulations.

John D. Snow, Burley, shipper and member of the Idaho advertising commission, suggested that the maturity regulation might best be covered by a federal marketing agreement if such a program could be "sold" to the growers.

Named to the committee to continue the study of the problem were Snow, P. L. Hansen, Idaho Falls Potato Growers, Inc., and Dr. Leif Verner, Moscow, head of the department of horticulture at the University of Idaho.

Wilson Kellogg, Boise, director of the state bureau of plant industry, led a discussion of the insecticide benzene hexachloride, and said potato growers have been cautioned in its use because of its asserted effect on the flavor of potatoes.

Earlier, the group discussed vari-mediately to a session of the full foreign committee.

Rep. Fulton, R., Pa., said he will offer a provision directing the administrator of foreign relief to "encourage" participating European nations to accept displaced persons to the maximum extent practicable.

The foreign affairs committee sought answers to these problems in the bill designed to help 16 western European nations stave off communism:

1. Should the $5,300,000,000 authorized by the senate for the first year's operation be shaved down?

2. Should the whole program be put on a one-year basis as a starter, instead of following the senate recommendation for a four and one-quarter year economic assistance plan?

3. Should congress set up an independent corporation to handle the entire program instead of giving control mainly to an economic cooperation administration headed by a $20,000 a year cabinet-rank officer as proposed by the senate?

a trickle and government officials fear the situation would be "very critical" if the strike lasts a week.

The government temporarily delayed intervention in the dispute pending the outcome of the operators' latest effort toward a settlement. They asked Lewis to go with them to the U. S. district court for help in solving the pension dispute. Lewis was asked to reply by Friday.

Chief negotiators for the industry tentatively were scheduled to meet here tomorrow to decide what they should do in case Lewis ignores or turns down their offer. Van Horn said they probably would go to court independently in such an event.

Van Horn gave Lewis the operators' ultimatum yesterday. As operator trustee for the union's welfare and retirement fund, he asked Lewis to join in petitioning the court to appoint a third trustee. This post has been vacant since Thomas E. Murray of New York resigned rather than break the Lewis-Van Horn deadlock over pensions for miners. Murray's compromise proposal was unacceptable to both sides.

Views Varied On Truman's Plea of Draft

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Reaction to President Truman's appeal for universal military training and revival of the draft today cut sharply across party lines in congress.

There was some Republican criticism of the President's request on the grounds that he was "creating a crisis."

He got backing, as well as opposition, for his UMT proposal. But most lawmakers said they want more time to study the draft request.

UMT Hearing Called

Chairman Gurney, R., S. D., noted that the senate armed services committee already had called a hearing for later today on the question of UMT. Secretary of State Marshall will be the first witness.

At the same time Gurney disclosed that Henry A. Wallace, third party presidential entry and critic of the administration's foreign policies, will be heard by the committee in a couple of weeks.

Senator Ferguson, R., Mich., complained that the President had done nothing in his message to spell out the terms of American foreign policy.

Goals Questioned

"Congress and the people ought to know exactly what our foreign policy is," Ferguson commented. "If we are going to fight, what are we going to fight for?"

On the house side, Chairman Eaton of the house foreign affairs committee, endorsed the draft and UMT proposals as "a wise precaution looking to our national safety."

Eaton also said he is doing all in his power to meet the President's request for quick passage of the European recovery plan. His committee is now drafting a recovery bill for house action.

Urges Draft Limitation

Chairman Andrews, R., N.Y., of the house armed services committee said a temporary draft "would have to be what I would call limited selective service." He explained this meant calling up men 18 to 21, "with none to be called who are in high school or are gainfully employed."

"We might need only 300,000 to 400,000 men," Andrews said.

Andrews said a draft would not serve as a substitute for universal military training—"something in the bank for the future."

Rep. Wadsworth, R., N.Y., author of the wartime draft law, urged immediate action on the President's proposal for UMT and temporary draft.

"Speaks the Truth"

Wadsworth said: "In his description of the present conditions of the world and the menace which it carries, the President speaks the truth."

But Senator Thye, R., Minn., a supporter of Republican presidential aspirant Harold E. Stassen, commented:

"The President seems to be developing a new crisis."

And Senator Taylor, D., Ida., vice presidential running mate of Wallace, said he is opposed to renewing selective service.

"I see where Russia is demobilizing," Taylor said. "It seems like a poor time for us to be mobilizing."

April 26 Set For Confabs On 'Seasons'

BOISE, March 17 (UP)—The Idaho fish and game commission will set 1948 big game, bird and trapping seasons at its meeting starting here April 26, and Commission Secy. R. G. Cole urged sportsmen's clubs to get their recommendations ready as soon as possible.

"Rod and gun clubs," said Cole, "should send their suggestions to the game department at least 10 days before the commission meeting so members will have an opportunity to study the proposals."

Conservation officers have spent much of the winter taking inventory of big game, examining range conditions and studying last fall's hunts. Studies also have been taken on upland game birds.

This is the first year the setting of the big game and bird seasons will be set in April. Ordinarily the commission sets the dates at its July meeting.

Fishing seasons for 1948 were set at the January meeting. The general trout season begins June 4. Pamphlets of the new fishing regulations will be distributed to license vendors in a few days. The 1948 licenses are effective April 1.

Speaker Wins Audience With Humor; Drawl

By EARL HOFELDT

Jeff Williams, a lean man with a wide Oklahoma drawl, spun humorous yarns around a serious topic, "Getting Back to Fundamentals," and won the hearts of a near capacity audience Tuesday night at the Twin Falls Town Hall meeting.

Known as the "Sooner Philosopher," Williams lived up to his advance publicity as an "unusual guy." He told jokes, rambled, and poked fun at the audience, but interspersed the humor with statements of solid logic.

Takes No Sides

Williams took no political sides as he blamed American people and government for much of the confusion existing in the world today. He said "when our government calls a spade a spade and takes a firm stand, you will see Joe Stalin and Gromyko step down."

Williams pleaded for public opinion to be crystallized around work, thrift, education and religion. He declared "We need to take a look at ourselves, and take heed of current trends. We must not think for a minute that America is immune to the calamities that have overtaken European nations."

Covers ERP

He spoke briefly of the European recovery program, stating that Americans should not rest with giving millions for European relief, but that Americans should demand seeing seeds planted and crops produced in European gardens.

Condemning American people for their apathy toward world affairs, Williams said according to a Gallup poll, it was determined that 25 per cent of the population is hopelessly misinformed; 50 per cent are misinformed but could be educated and that the remainder may be considered as educated. He then emphasized that the same poll revealed 50 per cent of the population is being reproduced by the ignorant 25 per cent.

Stresses Optimism

Williams stressed repeatedly the value of optimism and humor among human beings today. "There is too much worrying going on," he said. "Too many people are being stampeded by incessant talk of the inevitability of another war. If persons would view current topics with logic, humor, and hope, they would see that another war is far off."

A lawyer for 26 years in his home of Chickasha, Okla., and a past director of Rotary International, Williams gave a speech that was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. The audience gave him a hearty, lasting ovation at the conclusion of his talk.

Vanderford, Aberdeen, and Mark Pomeroy, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho Potato and Onion Shippers' association, was named to look into ways and means of raising money to reimburse growers for potato acreage which might be lost if the crops were affected by certain blights.

The coordinating committee asked the advertising commission to place warning signs in warehouses, Grange halls and such places to familiarize growers with the various types of potato diseases.

5 Teen-Agers Admit Series Of Burglaries

LEWISTON, March 17 (AP)—Five teen-age boys from Juliaetta, 20 miles northeast of here, were in county jail here today charged with nine burglaries and two cases of breaking and entering.

Sheriff W. W. Hays said the boys confessed to the series of crimes, which extended over seven weeks and netted loot valued at approximately $2,000.

The sheriff said they made the confessions to Harold Hanson, county juvenile officer. He said the youths, whose ages range from 15 to 17, admited their last burglary netted $628.50 worth of merchandise from the C. C. Anderson store at Lewiston. The theft was committed Sunday morning at 12:30.

Other Places

Other burglaries which Hays said the boys admitted were staged at Clarkston, Wash., Kendrick, Juliaetta, Lapwai and Spalding.

The sheriff said the boys told him they traveled from Juliaetta to the scene of their crimes in an automobile belonging to the father of one of the youths, and that their loot was hidden in homes of two of the boys and in book lockers at Juliaetta high school.

Most of the stolen merchandise was recovered, Hays said, but the most valuable items—bonds and business papers worth $1,500 taken from a Clarkston home—are still missing. Hays said the boys told him they tossed a strongbox containing the papers into the Snake river.

Four Held in Lewiston

Four of the minors were held at the county jail here and one was released to the custody of a Latah county deputy sheriff, J. F. Jordan, who took the youngster to Moscow. Asotin county, Wash., Sheriff Hugh Curry said his office will handle the case of the fifth boy, whose parents reside in Washington.

The remaining three boys will be given juvenile hearings at Lewiston, Hays said.

PURCHASE TRUCK

ACEQUIA, March 17—The Minidoka highway district has purchased a two-ton truck from the Hanzel motor company.

Wage Schedule For Beet Work Is About Same

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — The agriculture department said today minimum wage rates for producing this year's sugar beet crop will be about the same as in 1947.

A wage schedule for all states except California set a minimum of 60 cents an hour for cultivation work and 65 cents for harvesting. California rates were announced earlier.

Piece-work rates average about 10 per cent below last year. A worker may get as much as he did last year if he stays to complete the harvest work.

Employers may pay bonuses to encourage laborers to fulfill harvesting agreements. Such bonuses would make piece rates about the same as last year.

Growers must pay minimum rates to be eligible for government subsidiaries under sugar laws.

STALLING ERP

Months ago Secretary of State Marshall urged an April 1 deadline for putting the European recovery program into action. His suggestion got a cold reception from some of our most influential congressmen. They have consistently resisted the idea that speed is a vital factor in the ERP. And in their consideration of the Marshall plan they have put that resistance into action.

So now there is no chance that ERP will be functioning by April 1, and there is only a slim chance that legislation to create it will even be passed by then. The no-need-to-hurry group has clearly won its point.

It would be interesting to know if the no-hurry legislators are aware that there is an election coming up in Italy on April 18—an election of which Premier de Gasperi has said, "We must win this time or we will never vote in Italy again."

If those legislators are aware of this election, it also would be interesting to know whether they see any connection between it and Secretary Marshall's deadline.

Italy's anti-communists would at least have a talking point if, before April 18, the ERP were set up and on its way, rather than merely a promise and a subject for bitter debate. This would not put an extra dollar or an extra mouthful of American food into Italy before the election. But it would surely strengthen the hand of Italian democrats, who will have a hard struggle at best to win.

If Italy goes communist, free Europe will then consist only of Greece, France, Switzerland, Belgium, The Netherlands, and the Scandinavian countries. French communists are biding their time. If Italy falls, who can say that the next French general strike will not succeed? And if France falls, who will save the others?

It must be clear, even to the no-hurry congressmen, that the Soviet empire has stepped up the tempo of its drive for all Europe and that the climax is approaching.

Congress saw Czechoslovakia lost in one day. Not long afterward a senator took up all but a half hour of one day's debate on the Marshall plan with a generalized attack on all Europe which amounted to a short filibuster. This was part of what has been called one of the most fateful debates in our history. But during part of the senator's almost interminable contribution to it, there was a grand total of eight senators listening to him!

The congressional objectors don't want to be rushed into this thing. They think that aid to free countries would help Russia more than letting Russia swallow all of Europe by withholding aid. They just don't like foreigners. They think that a nation that spent $330,000,000,000 to defeat nazi Germany might be ruined by spending $5,000,000,000 in an effort to beat communism.

The no-hurry congressmen can't seem to realize that it isn't Secretary Marshall or Senator Vandenberg or President Truman who is rushing them into this thing. The man who is hurrying them is Josef Stalin.

IS IT STILL SURPLUS?

With the danger of a war against Russia staring us right in the face we can understand why a number of precautionary steps are being taken.

It is only logical, for instance, that our military authorities should be giving the old selective service system a check-up, just in case.

Talk of reactivating the civil air patrol makes sense for the same reason. The CAP would play an important part in the nation's defense should our country be invaded.

There are various other developments which indicate clearly that in the event of another war this country does not intend to be caught napping, as was the case at Pearl Harbor. And there is something reassuring about it all—even to the pacifists—because modern warfare has become far too deadly for any nation to be off its guard.

But all this is difficult to reconcile with other government-controlled procedures which wouldn't make sense by the same standards.

The sale of war surplus materials serves as a good example. We know a lot of this stuff is worn out and obsolete; that it would serve no real purpose in another war. But what about such staple commodities as hammers, cold chisels, wrenches, wool blankets, coveralls, paint, shoes, and those thousand and one other items that would have to be reproduced for the army, navy and air force should we get into war?

Just why is the government continuing to sell millions of dollars' worth of such equipment on the one hand and making obvious preparations on the other?

That's a reasonable question and we're not alone in wondering what, if anything, is the logical answer. If it's just another case of military policy gone blind, for no better reason than a thing once started must run its course, we'd better be calling a halt.

When a cook applies for a job and finds they've just hired one, the thing to do is call again the next day.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Bronx Boss Ed Flynn refused to accept union labor support in his recent political scrap with the Henry Wallace faction in a special congressional election. But he has been only too glad to accept a retainer from labor in a law suit which may cost private firms and the government at least $300,000,000, with a possible 10 per cent cut for his law firm.

Ray Tucker

The litigation involves the attempt of a CIO stevedores' union to persuade the supreme court to fix a higher rate for the hourly work on which overtime is based. Although an extremely complicated question, it amounts to a portal-to-portal suit covering payments for the last five years. It would bankrupt almost every firm on each coast, if the high tribunal rules in favor of the clients of Goldwater and Flynn.

The American Federation of Labor has refused to go along with the more radical group in seeking to set aside contractual arrangements which have prevailed for the last 30 years. In fact, as a friend of the court, it has joined with the government in contesting the claims.

SPLIT—The Flynn forces have already won the first round in the form of a decision handed down by the wage and hours administrator, William McComb, who was appointed to the post by President Truman less than a year ago.

Two lower courts have split in passing on the unions' plea, which led to the appeal to the supreme court. McComb held with the court which ruled that the stevedores are entitled to the $300,000,000 back pay.

It is estimated that accountants' bills alone would break many of the waterfront firms. One company has received an estimate that it would cost at least $270,000 for an examination of their books to determine its liability over the five-year period.

Uncle Sam would eventually have to foot the bill, for most of the work involved was performed for the government. But it would be years before he could recompense the private companies.

BLAST—John L. Lewis is readying a solemn and tragic blast against President Truman and the Republican congress for its failure to take any action on several bills empowering the federal government to enforce a drastic safety code in the nation's coal mines. He will probably explode it on March 25, the first anniversary of the Centralia disaster in which 111 men lost their lives.

Investigation of that catastrophe revealed that state inspectors and union members had begged Illinois authorities for years to force the elimination of hazards. Their requests, including a union committee's pathetic plea to Gov. Dwight H. Green to "save our lives," were pigeon-holed. Three of the four miners who penned that fateful letter were killed in the explosion.

Revelations that many state inspectors were then collecting political funds from the operators for the Republican machine in Chicago and the state caused a scandal. It ruined whatever chance the handsome governor had for a presidential or or vice presidential nomination next June, although he had only a slight hope.

NEGLECTED—When President Truman seized the mines, federal inspectors took a look at the Centralia mine and joined with State Inspector Scanlan in condemning it. But these recommendations were also neglected and the federal government has no power to enforce proposed reforms.

As a consequence, numerous bills giving the Washington authorities jurisdiction over mine safety were introduced in both house and senate. But they have not been moved out of committee, and nobody has taken any special interest in them. Lewis himself has not tried to bring pressure, although his forthcoming denunciation may produce pre-election scrambling on capitol hill.

Meanwhile, the first mine explosion of 1948 occurred in Arkansas five weeks ago, taking eight lives. The property had been described as "gassy" by state mine inspectors. A federal examination resulted in the listing of 11 major and many minor violations of the safety code. In 1947 there were 64,000 miners killed or injured in mine catastrophes, with the death toll placed at about 1,400.

REVOLTS—The governors of three great eastern states with enormous political power—Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and James H. Duff of Pennsylvania—have stirred mild revolts among their congressional delegations by their ostentatious opposition to the federal crowd's stand on foreign policy. In some respects they also disagree on GOP presidential candidates.

The three state executives are strong backers of the Marshall plan, whereas their congressmen support it only because there seems to be no other alternative. Only a few days after Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania denounced ERP, Governor Duff gave it his wholehearted endorsement. Subsequently, he condemned the house leadership in a manner that shocked Speaker Martin, Minority Leader Halleck and the Pennsylvanians.

Governor Driscoll's one-man war on Sen. Albert W. Hawkes has forced the latter to announce that he would not seek renomination, thus precipitating a primary row for the vacancy. Driscoll, an avowed internationalist, condemned Hawkes on the ground that the latter was not sufficiently abreast of present-day problems.

GRUMBLING—Governor Dewey has belatedly embraced the aid-to-Europe program. His delegation is not condemning him aloud because they would like their prestige enhanced through his presence in the White House. But they are grumbling over his enthusiastic attachment to the administration program, for it is unpopular in many of their districts.

These three states have more than 200 convention delegates and a total of 98 electoral votes. Although they seem headed for the Republican column at the moment, the "federals" are concerned that intra-party differences and the Wallace candidacy, which may also draw many voters from the GOP, may give President Truman an outside chance to cop them.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

IDAHO NOT WORTH "PINCH OF SNUFF"

Senator McDuffie of South Carolina, during debate on Oregon territory, told his colleagues he "wouldn't give a pinch of snuff" for all of it. Another senator, Thomas H. Benton, declared the Rocky mountains had been "placed by Providence" to mark the western limits of the United States and thus set a boundary to man's ambition.

These and other incidences were recalled this week by the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce in calling attention to Idaho's centennial. It was 100 years ago that congress allowed the pioneers to set up Oregon territory, which included the present states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and parts of Montana and Wyoming. Thus, a century ago, law and order and organized government replaced the lawless mass of trappers, traders, miners and settlers who had settled in a new land.

What is now Idaho loomed large in the early days of Oregon territory. The Oregon trail—a torturous, dusty, dangerous route—traversed the southern part of Idaho. Fort Hall, Massacre rocks, lonely graves and markers, and deep wagon ruts that still remain are today's reminders of America's great westward migration 100 years ago.

Earlier still is the Lewis and Clark trail through northern Idaho. The first mission in Oregon territory was established in Idaho by Marcus Whitman in 1836. When gold was discovered in California in 1848, the California cut-off from the Oregon trail, by way of Silent City of Rocks near Oakley, became a broad highway on which wagons and carts rolled into the land of promised riches.

The Idaho state Chamber of Commerce is urging Idaho communities to call particular attention to this centennial year in celebrations planned for this summer and next fall.—Pocatello Tribune.

MORE ON INSPECTIONS

Dear Potso:

Read in your column that an "Observer" in Paul disagrees with Sergeant Holmquist's position in the inspection picture. If I may add a comment, the sergeant's hands are not clenched, and his position would be much more natural and comfortable than to try to strain his arm muscles to hold his hands straight down.

BACKYARD WARFARE

'Tis said international military leaders keep close watch on the weather along about this time of year just in case they have to plan a few battles, purges, or what have you. Well, we keep an eye on the Missus in order that we may have ample time to avoid that spring campaign in the back yard.

But we're not too well informed on how to interpret the signs, so we've already been stuck (literally) with the first phase of the spring campaign.

Yep, the Battle of the Roses, wherein we tackled a flock of rose bushes armed only with some inadequate pruning shears, is now a thing of the past. We presume the Missus will soon force us into the Battle of the Barberry Hedge from which we don't expect to emerge unscathed.

Then there's the Battle of the Rake and the many-phased Battle of the Lawn Mower. We knew bad weather couldn't last forever!

BOB HOPE

They're planning a subway for Los Angeles and it's drawing vociferous objections from motorists. They claim it's their exclusive privilege to put pedestrians under ground.

Bob Hope

Los Angeles could certainly use added transportation facilities. I rode a trolley the other day and I won't say it was jammed, but it was the first time I ever saw a street car with bow-legged wheels!

A subway is great. In my early vaudeville days, when I was residing in New York, I would walk down a flight of steps and in two seconds I was home . . . I was living in the subway.

The minute it was announced, my brother applied for the job of building the subway. He once was quite successful at digging a tunnel. Of course, he took one to 10 years to do it.

But digging that long tunnel shouldn't be a problem in Los Angeles. All the contractor has to do is get the tunnel started, then put a hot rod driver in it and show him a sign that says "Speed limit, 20 miles an hour."

Those subway trains will be real Hollywood . . . top down . . . finished in two tones . . . orchid and aquamarine . . . and the subway guard won't have to shove passengers into the car . . . he'll just squirt 'em with orange juice.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

The dismissal of Harry Bridges from the appointive position of regional director of the CIO in northern California proves that the political unionism created by Roosevelt and Robert F. Wagner was designed to put down political, intellectual and even religious freedom.

Westbrook Pegler

Recently, the ex-wife of Bridges testified before a legislative committee of the state of Washington that he was, during their exciting married life, a card-carrying communist. She gave other evidence tending to confirm the well-proved case of the government which went to naught in the supreme court.

In that case Bridges' deportation seemed to be the government's purpose, but wasn't. The ace in the hole was the supreme court. It was a foregone conclusion that Bridges would be saved from deportation by the court.

That conclusion was verified by the fantastic jabber of Justice William O. Douglas, who did the majority opinion, and by the juvenile nonsense indited by Frank Murphy in an independent assent.

The decision and the names of the judges on each side of the split were correctly announced on the air by an old confidant and political booster of Murphy well in advance of the official announcement.

The late Chief Justice Stone later said he was "profoundly disturbed" by the leak. He said, moreover, that it was the second, not the first known leak, in recent times.

He suspected one of his brethren, the same one that I suspected, and I strongly surmised from certain swinish conduct of the panoplied shyster on a social occasion later, that the chief justice got them together in his chambers and gave the flannel-mouth hell.

The leak, however, was mere lagniappe. It was the sort of thing to be expected from a court most of whose members were selected not to adorn the bench but to make the court contemptible and assuage the rancor of a failure who never could get a law degree himself.

By a turn of evil fate, Roosevelt acquired the power to express his own innate crookedness and vulgarity through his appointments, and did.

We cannot know whether his attorney general of the time, Francis Biddle, was doing his best in his prosecution of the government's case against Bridges.

Biddle seemed enthusiastic, but so do actors, and the same man who was supposed to be leveling against Bridges was caught by a covey of reporters at the 1944 convention in Chicago, sneaking up a penthouse stair to pay homage to Sidney Hillman, a fellow-traveler.

Biddle also was heard to say he wouldn't do that for any other man but Roosevelt.

No jury of American citizens ever got a chance to decide the Bridges deportation case. It was a habeas corpus job all the way and although Biddle won in three courts and gave his own decision against Bridges, he was smart enough, in the cynical way of Washington, to know that he could shoot the works and still not harm the CIO's boss brutalitarian of the western shores and valleys. The supreme court would save him. It did.

Now, however, we find the CIO, a strictly political union, related to labor only for its income and the prestige of labor's name, coercing Bridges in his own politics.

Bridges, naturally, plumped for Henry Wallace, the candidate of the communists and the logical candidate of anyone with his record. The dominant political faction of the CIO, the bald mahatma, Phil Murray, who likens himself to Christ, and Walter Reuther, of the United Auto Workers, have found it expedient to oppose the communists in the union and in the national politics at this time and for a specific purpose.

Therefore they opposed Wallace and his third party. There can be no pretense of principle or patriotic preference here because these bosses and the CIO as a whole have been notoriously cordial to communists of the most traitorous kind ever since the CIO began amid riots and insurrection in the 30's.

When it suited their purpose to work with and use communists against the national interests and against the peace and physical security of millions of working citizens, they did.

The Michigan riots which created the auto workers, and the CIO as well, were directed by expert street-fighters and terrorists. Many reels of private movies taken from factory windows still exist to prove the murderous and efficient determination of the goons.

They wore uniform fore-and-aft caps for identification to their own comrades. They fought in disciplined squads, platoons and companies. They had mobile command cars with radio communication. And they had headquarters with shock-troops in reserve for dispatch to appropriate points of conflict. It was ultimate insurrection.

Yet, now, the CIO is trying to intimidate Bridges by removing him from an unimportant appointive job because the CIO this year realizes that a vote for Wallace is actually a vote for the Republican candidate and against Truman. The communists, of course, have no preference between the Republican, whomsoever, and Truman.

The Republican naturally will be anti-communist and Truman has been trying to delouse his party and administration by picking on a few conspicuous and very unpopular foreigners.

These unions are often referred to in court decisions as "voluntary" associations. That is a judicial lie the more wicked because it is a conscious and leering affront to the knowledge and liberties of millions of citizens who have learned otherwise.

The decisions in the Cecil B. DeMille atrocity, in California, not only reiterated this nasty mockery but even held that the purpose involved in a compulsory assessment ordered by a few union bosses was not political.

The purpose of the assessment was to oppose a proposed amendment to the state constitution. The constitution is the governing document of California. Politics is the science of government. Still the expulsion of De Mille from a union which then barred him from his radio program was condoned by the court as a nonpolitical action.

If the CIO can remove Bridges from office for supporting a candidate of his choice, it can remove Murray, at some future time when the political balance is right, for voting Democratic or going to mass.

There is no limitation on the powers claimed by such Hitlerian gauleiters. It was so intended by Roosevelt and Wagner, the old Tammany kraut.

And the attempt to punish Bridges for his political beliefs is a flagrant example of the sort of thing which the whole sordid crowd deplored as a horrible abuse of the citizens' rights if and when it was done by an employer—as though it ever was.

Senators Rap House-Passed Rent Lid Act

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The home rule rent control bill passed by the house ran head-on into stiff senate opposition today.

A hot fight seemed certain in the conference committee which will have the job of trying to bring the two chambers together to decide who should have final say over rent ceilings.

The present stop-gap rent control act expires March 31.

The house chalked up a 251 to 132 vote last night for its bill stripping federal officials of major powers over rents. The measure would transfer to local boards—nominated by the governors of the various states—full and final authority to raise rents or to lift controls completely.

This bill would continue rent controls to April 1, 1949—if the local boards want them.

The senate flatly rejected the home rule amendment, 43 to 25, when it passed its own control legislation last month. The senate bill would continue the federal housing expediter's present review and veto power over local board actions.

The senate bill also would extend controls to May 1, 1949—one month longer than the house measure.

Senator Cain, R., Wash., chairman of the senate banking subcommittee on rents, said immediately after the house acted: "I hope we will be able to talk the house out of transferring full powers to the local boards."

Cain said the constitutionality of such a transfer of federal power is doubtful and added: "It would take away every conceivable reason for a national rent law."

Senator Myers, D., Pa., said the house action raises "a grave constitutional question" and might "destroy" rent controls.

Three Rupert Archers Report On Wild Pig Hunt in Arizona

RUPERT, March 17—Arizona is famed the nation over for its wild pigs which are considered dangerous game animals.

But for three Rupert men, who have just returned from Tucson, Ariz., hunting them with bow and arrow provided real sport.

The three, Dr. Fayre H. Kenagy, Joe Dolan and Oran Whittaker, brought home the "bacon" Thursday when they arrived with several souvenirs from their trip.

The pigs were hunted in the foothills 40 miles south of Tucson and 20 miles north of the Mexican border.

Robert Walters, Phoenix, served as guide for the trio.

Dr. Kenagy reported that althoug.. the pigs are dangerous, they were killed quite easily by arrows.

The proper name for the wild pig is peccary and they are found from Venezuela through Central America and Mexico to Arizona and New Mexico.

Dr. Kenagy pointed out that the pigs are edible and are eaten by the natives, but added they were not tempting since their flesh was full of cactus thorns.

'New Look' for GIs Given Nod By U. S. Army

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 17 (UP)—The United States army had approved the "new look" for its enlisted men today—complete with hood.

Lieut.-Col. H. F. Ames of the quartermaster corps announced at Camp Carson that the "model 1917" olive drab overcoat worn and carried by veterans of World wars I and II would be replaced with a light-weight trench coat with removable lining.

Approval of the new coat for issue followed a 60-day test by S/Sgts. Herbert L. Stout and Roger L. Harve of the 38th regimental combat team.

Army fashion designers got the hint that a new overcoat was needed when style-conscious GI's left the old-model coats in barracks on even the coldest days. Questions brought one typical anonymous comment that "I'd rather be caught dead—froze stiff—than wear one."

Stout and Harve reported the new coat not only looked good but also did not feel like a parlor rug when rolled and added to an infantryman's pack.

Wallace made the charge against Steinhardt at a press conference in New York Monday. He said Steinhardt issued a statement calculated to aid the "rightist cause" just before the resignation of non-communist ministers, "thereby hoping to precipitate a crisis."

... when you put a shamrock in the hat for good luck! But with your engine, don't put your trust in luck ... drain out that mucky old winter oil ... put in Conoco Nth ... the patented* Motor Oil that OIL-PLATES as it lubricates!
You see, Nth Motor Oil contains a special added ingredient that is attracted magnet-like to metal surfaces. This extra film of lubricant fastens itself so closely to working parts and cylinder walls that they are actually OIL-PLATED!
And because this extra OIL-PLATING resists gravity, won't all drain down, even overnight, you're extra-protected: From metal-eating combustion acids when you're standing still ... from "dry-friction" when you first start up ... from sludge and carbon caused by excessive wear when you're running hot!
So, for extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles, today's the date ...

The letter charged MacArthur "is not the glowing hero that some historians have painted him."

"Some of us lived beyond the place where MacArthur was God for four years," the letter concluded, "They were long years. Please don't put us back under this self-styled hero. Let us have a leader who understands the common man.

Tax Suit Won By Insurance Firm in State

BOISE, March 17 (AP)—The state of Idaho has failed in an attempt to collect income taxes claimed against a national insurance company when the state supreme court ruled in favor of the firm.

The state claimed $20,000 in income taxes from the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company. The state contended the tax was owed from profit the company made on the sale of property acquired through mortgage foreclosures in 1943-44.

The high court ruled yesterday the company owed income taxes to the state only on "gross income from interest, dividends and rent."

"The state, in its argument, claimed the insurance company should pay income taxes on the same basis as other corporations. The court decision said the company as an insurance firm was a special organization and not subject to regular corporation taxes.

On the SPORT FRONT With YOSS

(The Pudgy One)

Oh, no—Ye Olde Sport Scrivener didn't climb out on a limb in this basketball controversy that's been raging since several of the state's most powerful cage aggregations were erased from a chance to compete for the Idaho championship. At his age, YOSS just couldn't have survived the fall that would result from some one sawing off that limb.

The ancient word puddler's neutral in the row. He just desires to be an interested onlooker and toss a few coals on the fire, now and then.

Mr. Kent Hale of Oakley, where the athletic fires always burn brightly, comes up with an interesting letter on the case in point that YOSS is going to give to you, right here:

"I think you are entirely off the track in suggesting that the method of selecting teams for the Idaho state basketball tournament is wrong or unfair. (YOSS will try to write more understandably hereafter). Excuse my bluntness, but I must speak strongly to show how desperate I am. I'm a rabid basketball fan and have seen most of the tournaments in Twin Falls since 1930 and feel that it offers more to Magic Valley than the state tournament, as far as fan appeal and player interest are concerned.

"Without this tournament a team would lose its incentive to improve after it had lost a few games. Under this system a coach can experiment and make his team so that it will reach its climax by tournament time; rather than work to win every game and run the risk of going stale about the time the state tournament rolls around.

"I feel that teams which reach their peak around tournament time deserve to represent the district in the state meet. A team with fight, poise and morale will do a better job than a team with an impressive record that bogs down from overwork.

"Upsets are inevitable and offer some of life's greatest lessons: The underdog finds that no team is invincible and the favorite is rudely awakened to the fact that he isn't so great after all.

"These facts along with the opportunity the tournament provides for all teams in the league to participate, I think, overrides the possibility of sending an inferior team to the state meet.

"We mustn't be fooled by the Utah system. It works nicely there, but they have less than 20 class "A" schools. That makes it possible for the fifth place team in one league to enter the state meet. My guess of 20 may be wrong, but enough teams from each league enter the tournament to give it great interest in all localities, something our state tournament lacks.

"KENT HALE.

"P. S. I think the district tourney could be improved by seeding the top four teams and by putting teams one and two in different brackets.

"P. S. Oakley's loss to Gooding was the result of overconfidence and lack of training on Oakley's part. It did the Hornets more good than a dozen wins. If you are interested in boys, as you claim to be, (YOSS yields to no man in that interest.) you should recognize these merits of the system and quit worrying about the best team winning."

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, except: Mr. Worthy Olds, who probably sees more sports events in a year than any other Magic Valley fan, says that Martindale, the Oakley center, is the best basketball rebounder that he ever saw.

Ex-Foes Aid Bobcats, Coach Budge Declares

BURLEY, March 17 — If the Burley Bobcats win the state championship a lot of credit should go to "our opponents of a couple of weeks ago" for the "encouragement they have given us," Rulon Budge, the Bobcats' popular coach, said last night as he prepared his players for the state tournament in Pocatello beginning Wednesday.

"We have received telegrams from Rupert, Twin Falls and Buhl players and fans wishing us luck and that really means a lot to my boys," said Budge. "That's why we want to come through—not only for Burley but for the whole Magic Valley."

Burley Plays Thursday

The Bobcats will take the floor for their first tournament game at 9 p. m. Thursday and, in order to allow their employes to arrive in Pocatello in time, many Burley business houses will close at 4 p. m.

"I do believe half of Burley will be in Pocatello Thursday night," Budge stated.

The Bobcat mentor said that his players came through the sectional tournament in fine shape and there is a chance that they'll be even stronger for the state.

Clark "Off" in Regional

This is because Jack Clark, the team's big star, may be back atop of his game. Budge revealed that Clark wasn't at his best in either the district or regional tournaments.

Clark with Loveless, the Bobcats' long-shot ace, will start at the forwards with Millard at center and Crane at one of the guards. The other starting guard will be either Miller or Larsen.

ONE DEFENDING CHAMPION

POCATELLO, March 17 (AP)—With just one defending champion among them, eight Idaho high school basketball teams go into the final 1948 tournament tonight.

Class A and B championships for the season will be decided in four nights of play.

Kendrick, from the Panhandle country, is the defending class B champion, and takes the floor in the opening game against McCammon, runnerup in last week's southeast regional meet.

Lewiston, which hasn't lost to an Idaho team this season, takes the floor against Madison high of Rexburg in the second half of this evening's doubleheader. The Rexburg entry was class A runnerup in the southeast regional. Lewiston was northern regional winner.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17 (AP)—A $1,000,000 plan for expanding and improving the New York Yankees' baseball properties has been approved by the club's directors. Dan Topping, Yankee president, made the announcement at a dinner given by Will Harridge, president of the American league.

BOISE, March 17—Sportsmen of Idaho were advised today that the state fish and game commission will set hunting and trapping seasons for 1948 at a meeting in Boise April 26. Setting of big game and bird seasons in April is a new departure of the commission. For several years it has been the practice to fix the dates at a July meeting.

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP)—The Big Nine today had two new football coaches—one a complete surprise at Michigan and the other a small college coach who landed at Indiana. All-time Michigan football great, Benny Oosterbaan, was popped into Fritz Crisler's head coaching job at Michigan, while Clyde B. Smith, a mild-mannered, little mentor from La Crosse (Wis.) state Teachers' college got the call at Indiana.

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—With one of the eight berths in the Olympic basketball tryouts already filled, a second will be allotted tonight when St. Louis university collides with New York university in the finals of the national invitation tournament.

Leishman Predicts 20 Homers for New Waddie

The new Cowboy that Eddie Leishman, western farm club director for the New York Yankees, says will hit "at least 20 home runs in the Pioneer league ended his holdout siege Tuesday night when Wrangler Business Manager Jack Radtke received the player's signed contract.

The player is big Jack Hack, who came to terms after President Maury Doerr of the Cowboys upped his original offer $25 per month.

Hack is just the opposite of most rookie players—he can hit but is erratic in the field. However, because of a shortage of infielders, the Yankee farm bosses have reconsidered their intention of making the second baseman over into an outfielder and he may be found at the keystone cushion which Radtke himself took care of so superbly for the Cowboys during the past two seasons.

The youngster has played with Ventura in the California State league and Fond du Lac in the Wisconsin State and with each club smacked the apple for better than .300.

Also signing a Cowboy contract after a slight boost in pay was Robert Webster, a Los Angeles boy who was with Ventura during the fag end of the 1947 season. He won one game and lost three but the Bronx Bombers' farm bosses rate him highly.

The Cowboys now have 22 players under contract.

Williams Sees 4-Team Battle

SARASOTA, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Ted Williams gazed fondly at his yellow-painted 36-ounce hickory bat, took a few healthy swipes at an imaginary baseball and came up with half a dozen fresh observations.

The Boston Red Sox' triple crown king in 1947 voiced the following:

1—American league pitchers will be tougher to hit than ever in 1948.

2—The league's leading batter probably won't hit .350.

3—Boston, New York, Detroit and Cleveland will engage in one of the closest pennant races in history.

4—Joe McCarthy can't help but be a success in Boston because he is "a wonderful manager and knows how to get the most out of his players."

5—The opposing clubs will continue to use the "Boudreau shift" on him but he will break it up by hitting to left more than ever.

6—He should be more valuable to the Red Sox than ever because he has learned that baseball consists of more than just hitting.

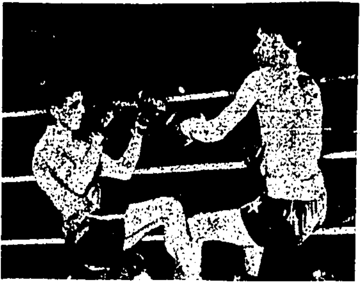
Participant in Double Kayo Now City Resident



One year ago (St. Patrick's day) there occurred in Minneapolis one of those rarities in boxing—a double knockout — which Wayne Bell of the Morning Tribune of that city caught with his camera and thus produced what was acknowledged one (above) of the best sport pictures of the year.

That the picture should interest Magic Valley boxing fans is because the boxer going down on the left is now a resident of Twin Falls. He is Paul "Pepper" Martin, who, then representing Corvallis, Ore., won the northwest Golden Gloves lightweight championship here and liked the city so well that he decided to make it his home.

On the right is Martin as he looked while working out to appear in one of the bouts of the amateur boxing program to be staged at Buhl Saturday night. (Staff engraving)

Hugh Willett, chairman of the NCAA eligibility committee, explained tonight that an exception plained last night that an exception in the rules pertaining to eligibility had been found which covered Nichols' case.

Stop-Gap Aid Said "Savior" Of Europeans

PARIS, March 17 (AP)—Short term aid from the United States prevented serious collapse in Europe, representatives of the 16 Marshall plan nations said today.

The interim aid, they said in an official report, enabled stricken countries to pull through. The report added: "This aid was designed with limited objectives and could not modify the situation as a whole."

The French version of the report used the word "brutal" to describe the threatened collapse. The official English translation changed the word to "serious."

3 Nations "Rescued"

One high American official here named France, Austria and Italy as nations rescued by more than $500,000,000 spent in interim aid.

He added that if these three countries had gone under there would have been no reason to spend the $5,300,000,000 now planned as the first year's expense in saving the economic lives of 250,000,000 Europeans under the Marshall plan.

The report said recent developments confirmed forecasts of both the American government, and the committee of European economic cooperation and demonstrated that without external aid the economic situation of the European continent would continue to deteriorate.

France Prepared Report

The report, approved at yesterday's final session of the "big 16," was prepared by Claude Bouchinet-Serreules. He is an official of the French foreign ministry and secretary-general of the CEEC.

The report said European countries have been able to help one another "in certain directions but in others cooperative progress is closely linked with the availability of external aid."

"Nor is the production picture by any means one of unrelieved gloom," the report said. "In certain important items, for instance coal, iron and steel, wheat sowings, etc., in which self help was possible, energetic action has been taken with positive and encouraging results."

Irish on March In Annual Fete Of St. Patrick's

By The Associated Press

The Irish marched today, waving shamrocks from the mother land to the "colonies" in the United States.

President Truman led the nation in paying tribute to St. Patrick, Ireland's apostle, reviving the parade of 80,000 up New York's Fifth avenue several hours after addressing a joint session of congress. The chief executive also will make a second major address at tonight's dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in New York.

In a St. Patrick's day message addressed to Pres. Sean T. O'Kelly of Ireland, Mr. Truman said:

"On this national holiday of Ireland, the people of the United States send their heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the people of Ireland."

In Dublin, thousands of shamrock-wearing soldiers jostled through the streets in the biggest St. Patrick's day celebration since before the war.

Churches were crowded. President O'Kelly and his cabinet drove in state to high mass after reviewing the parade.

Six thousand miles away, former Prime Minister Eamon de Valera heads festivities in Los Angeles. He speaks at a luncheon of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and at a dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick tonight.

Pair of Area Men Enlisted by Army

Army enlistment of two Magic Valley men was announced Wednesday by Lieut. George P. Claxton, officer in charge of the Twin Falls army recruiting station.

Williams reenlisted in the corps of engineers in the grade of technical sergeant. He has nine years of prior service and during the war served in Europe with the 355th engineer general service regiment. His wife, an English war bride, will accompany him to Ft. Ord where he will be stationed for a three weeks' refresher course.

Truman Asks Draft Return; Okay of UMT

unmistakeably clear," the President said.

In his draft recommendation the President said the armed forces have been unable to maintain authorized strength.

"We cannot meet our international responsibilities unless we maintain our armed forces," Mr. Truman said.

The President proposed that a temporary draft be set up and operated until "the solid foundation of universal training can be established . . . Selective service can then be terminated and the regular forces may then be maintained on a voluntary basis."

Counsels Congress

Urging the nation to pay the price of peace lest it pay the higher cost of war, Mr. Truman counseled the congress to be ready to take "every wise and necessary step" to avoid another world conflict.

After setting the stage with a generalized picture of the critical foreign situation, Mr. Truman delivered a blistering denunciation of Russia.

"Since the close of hostilities, the Soviet union and its agents have destroyed the independence and democratic character of a whole series of nations in eastern and central Europe," he said.

"Ruthless Action" Deplored

"It is this ruthless course of action and the clear design to extend it to the remaining free nations of Europe, that have brought about the critical situation in Europe today."

The President called the roll. He described the communist grab of Czechoslovakia as the "tragic death" of a republic. He said Russian pressure on Finland is a hazard to the "entire Scandinavian peninsula."

He also deplored communist activities aimed at control of Greece and Italy.

Praises U. N.

The President was full of praise for the work of the United Nations. But he said the time has come for supplemental help for the U. N. by this country.

"There are times in world history when it is far far wiser to act than to hesitate," he said. "There is some risk involved in action—there always is. But there is far more risk in failure to act.

"For if we act wisely now, we shall strengthen the powerful forces for freedom, justice and peace which are represented by the United Nations and the free nations of the world.

Toughest Russ Rap

This was by far the toughest public attitude toward Russia ever taken by Mr. Truman or any other top official of the government.

His call for renewal of the draft came only hours after the Russians had announced that their army is being reduced to only the 21 and 22-year-old classifications.

In calling for UMT, the President warned against again having to pay the "terrible price for our unpreparedness."

Despite his sharp words about Russia, Mr. Truman emphasized that this country wants to join with all nations "in every possible effort to reach international understanding and agreement."

"The door has never been closed, nor will it ever be closed, to the Soviet union or any other nation which will genuinely cooperate in preserving the peace," he said.

Mr. Truman added, however, that this nation must avoid confusion about what he called "the central issue" confronting the world today.

"Time Has Come"

"The time has come when the free men and women of the world must face the threat to their liberty squarely and courageously," he said.

"The United States has a tremendous responsibility to act according to the measure of our power for good in the world. We have learned that we must earn the peace just as we earned victory in the war, not by wishful thinking but by realistic effort.

"At no time in our history has unity among our people been so vital as it is at the present time."

Lions Club Told Pennant Chances Of Cowboy Team

At the regular meeting of the Lions club Wednesday, Maury Doerr, president of the Cowboys baseball club, told of his team's chances for the coming season.

Doerr praised his new manager, Charley Metro. Doerr claimed Metro is one of the greatest teachers of hitting in baseball and should provide Magic Valley fans with the most interesting team they have watched. Last year, at Bisbee, Ariz., Metro rounded up a group of mediocre players, and led them to a final team batting average of .327, highest of any club in organized baseball, Doerr said.

Widow Appointed To Handle Estate

The appointment of Mrs. Hattie I. Gulley, 1316 Addison avenue east, to administetr the $60,000 estate of her husband, Robert F. Gulley, until a settlement can be reached among the heirs, was decreed Wednesday by Probate Judge S. T. Hamilton.

Heirs of Mr. Gulley, who died March 11, 1948, are named in the petition as Mrs. Gulley, four daughters, Mrs. Winnifred Papa, Caldwell; Mrs. Ruth Brodehl, Wells, Nev.; Mrs. Nevada Keller, 1316 Addison avenue east; and Mrs. Marie Bogar, South Gate, Calif., and two sons, Robert W. Gulley, Jerome, and Calvin L. Gulley, 1316 Addison avenue east.

Discussions Set On Airport Cost

Final estimates on the construction of runways, lighting and water contracts for the Twin Falls municipal airport are slated for discussion Tuesday at a conference in Boise of Mayor Herbert G. Lauterbach, State Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton and H. K. Glidden, CAA, airport engineer.

The conference, originally scheduled for Thursday, is called to give the state and civil aeronautics administration a check on development of the Twin Falls airport project, Mayor Lauterbach said.

Local Man's Car In Fatal Mishap

Willis Frank Webb, Twin Falls, was the driver of an auto involved Sunday in an accident which resulted in the death of Dennis Smith Ashley, according to word received here.

The accident occurred on U. S. highway 30 two miles west of Soda Springs, according to the Associated Press. Sheriff Charles Mc-Cracken, Montpelier, said a car driven by the boy's father swerved into the vehicle driven by Webb. The impact threw Mr. and Mrs. Ashley from their car.

Truman Panel Probing Meat Packer Strike

P. Feinsinger, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin; Pearce Davis, chairman of the department of business and economics at the Illinois Institute of Technology, and Walter V. Schaefe., professor of law at Northwestern university.

There was no violence reported in the picket lines at packing plants across the country during the first day's strike. Supplies of meat animals to market were cut sharply and prices on the wholesale market were higher. Industry spokesmen said prices probably will continue to rise as fresh meat at the retail stores dwindles.

Effect Not Felt

The full effects of the strike were not expected to be felt by consumers for about 10 days or two weeks. The present supply of meat in warehouses is sufficient to meet the nation's average need for three weeks. Still on the job at the plants are about 150,000 workers, members of the AFL or independent unions who have settled their wage issue with the packers.

The CIO union had asked for a wage boost of 29 cents an hour. The packers offered nine cents.

Break-in Attempt

An attempted break-in at the M and Y Electric company, 441 Main avenue east, was reported to Twin Falls police shortly before 5 p. m. Tuesday.

The attempted burglary was reported by one of the partners in the electric company, John Yaple. Investigating officers reported an attempt had been made to "jimmy" one of the rear doors to the establishment.

The attempt was made between 8 p. m. Monday and 5 p. m. Tuesday, police said.

Forest Area Insects Take Heaviest Toll

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Insects and disease are taking a bigger toll of national forest than fire, and the forest service is having a harder job fighting them.

There is good news on some fronts, but bad news on others, Chief Forester Lyle F. Watts told the house appropriations committee, which made public his testimony today.

There was the tussock moth. He apparently took the count after being doused with DDT in Idaho. That was a victory.

Epidemic Fought

Watts said 300,000 acres of national, state and privately owned forest lands, where the tussock moth had developed to an epidemic stage around Moscow, Ida., were sprayed with DDT from airplanes.

"It was a very difficult operation because they had to fly at very low altitudes to do that work," he told the committee. "I am told that even now they can find no evidence that the control was not complete. We think that it will be."

Beetle Is Real Villain

But the real villain in the woods, said Watts, is dendoctronus, a pinhead-size bark beetle. Forest experts can control this bug in pine trees, but not in spruce.

As a result, beetles have killed more than 2,000,000,000 board feet of timber in Colorado alone.

Watts said the forest service has not been able to "get on top" of blister rust in the west, and that the disease is spreading in Oregon and California.

Home in Idaho

BOISE, March 17 (AP)—There weren't any Idaho soft coal miners staying away from their jobs this week following the United Mine Workers nation-wide work stoppage—Idaho hasn't any soft coal mines.

The only coal mine in the state is in Teton county according to George McDowell, state mining inspector. He says he doesn't think it's operating at the present time.

Although the water in Lake Titicaca, between Bolivia and Peru, is very cold it never freezes.
